

Khawuleza: a district coordination model aimed at improving service delivery launched

17 September 2019

President Cyril Ramaphosa has officially launched a district coordination model: Khawuleza (hurry up).

The model aimed at improving government service delivery in the 44 districts and eight metros was launched today, 17 September 2019 at Ingquza Hill Local Municipality in Lusikisiki, in the Eastern Cape.

Public Works and Infrastructure Minister Patricia De Lille is among ministers who attended the launch.