The Property Sector Charter Council (PSCC) is a statutory body that is brought into being by the B-BBEE Act of 2007 under statement 003 and its Property Sector Code is gazetted in terms of section 9.1. The mandate of the Property Sector Charter Council is to monitor and evaluate the Property Sector transformation journey by collecting relevant data, analysing the data, tracking progress towards the achievement of set transformation targets, and then reporting on the progress made by industry players, big and small. The results are put together into a State Of Transformation Report that is released annually.

The State of Transformation Report monitors the progress made on the State of Transformation in the Property Sector in line with the Amended Property Sector Code. This Report provides details of performance with regards to Ownership, Control and Participation of Blacks, particularly Black Women, in the property industry across all segments within the industry.
