

Cash for JZ but none for teachers

The Citizen 13/13

■ IN his forthcoming State of the Nation address I do hope the president will cover why there is no money to build schools and qualify the necessary teachers but there is money to be spent to build his Nkandla palace.

Taxpayers are also entitled to know what makes e-tolling a priority while our country sees a rape every four minutes or so.

Why are we waiting with bated breath for the president's address, which has never made a blind bit of difference to the state of uncertainty in our country?
