

Property seized too soon!

Daily Sun, pg 31, 19/02/13

What happened to Shawn Mpisane and her husband is unfair.

Many high-ranking officials are anonymously and quietly involved in corruption and are not investigated.

Why didn't the Hawks wait for the public protector's report before they seized Shawn's property?

What is being done since that report appeared on the shameless spending at Nkandla?

This shows how weak our justice system is. Top officials are above the law.

I am not saying that Shawn and her husband are innocent, but that their case could have been handled "the Nkandla way".

To solve the corruption problem, the justice system needs to start investigating from the top.
