

Nkandla is South Africa's Berghof

I SUPPORT and vote for the ANC, but this time, I agree with Cope leader Mosiuoa Lekota that the contracting of Nkandla is similar to that of Berghof, the compound of Adolf Hitler that had bunkers and bulletproof windows, doors and walls.

The only difference is that Berghof did not have a tuckshop for Hitler's concubines and gymnasium and clinic for the family. Which war is imminent in South Africa that required R206 million to be spent on Nkandla?

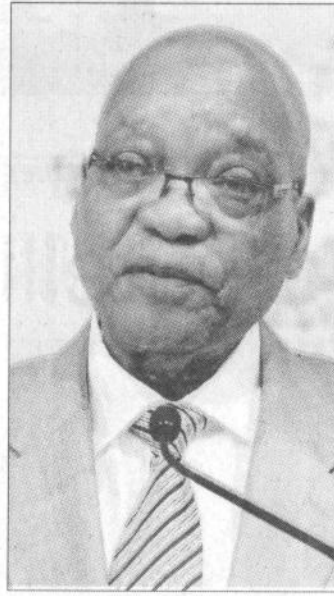

Nelson Mandela spent years on Robben Island and at Pollsmoor, but his cells were not that protected. Mandela and Thabo Mbeki did not abuse power the way Zuma does.

Did we vote for a "better life for Zuma and his family", or for the nation? We have his wives getting more than teachers, nurses, social workers and police officers, and can hire bling cars, but we do not have enough money to refurbish hospitals and mud schools.

In KwaZulu-Natal, we are told that MPs have chauffeurs and study bursaries so these MPs can support and defend

MOSIUOA LEKOTA

JACOB ZUMA

THULI MADONSELA

Zuma's Berghof. Thuli Madonsela is being targeted in the same way as former directors of the National Prosecuting Authority. The agenda is to dent her image so that her Nkandla findings do not impact on Zuma and Minister of Public Works Thulas Nxesi.

Lekota is abrasive at times, but as a true ANC member who follows the teachings of Mandela and Bishop Tutu, and as a staunch Christian, he is correct, Nkandla is our Berghof.

When people were poor in Iraq and Libya, Saddam Hussein and Muammar Gaddafi built hi-tech security compounds with bunkers. By the way, not a single apartheid president or prime minister did what Zuma has done.

Let us continue exposing the Nkandla corruption.

I challenge seniors in the ANC like Andrew Mlangeni, Ben Turok, Gertrude Shope, Ruth Mompoti, Sandi Sejake and Ahmed Kathrada to denounce the Nkandla scandal.
