■ NO NEW renovation work is being carried out at President Jacob Zuma's Nkandla homestead, Communications Minister Ayanda Dlodlo said on Friday.

"What might be happening is maintenance work, but no renovations," she said at a post-Cabinet briefing.

"We did not discuss it in Cabinet," she said in an answer to a question from News24.

She referred journalists to new Public Works Minister Nathi Nhleko's statement earlier this week about reports that more renovations were being done to Zuma's homestead.
