

THE THIRD UMPIRE

JEREMY CRONIN

The South African Communist Party deputy general secretary is hanging up his red socks after 22 years in the post, leaving a divided party in decline after it backed the wrong horse at Polokwane while clinging to the ANC's apron strings.

