

Dismembered body is found

Badly decomposed body found in river without upper and lower limbs.

Stephen Selaluke

Police found a dismembered body in the Kameeldrift river on Friday morning.

Police spokesperson Captain Michael Mbewe said the police were appealing to the public for information to assist in resolving the case.

“The body was found by an employee of extended public works programme working in Kameeldrift, east of Pretoria, who then summoned the police to the scene.

“The body was found badly decomposed in a river without the upper and lower limbs.

“Police forensic team was summoned to the scene.”

Mbewe said an inquest docket was immediately registered at Kameeldrift police station. It is unknown at this stage whether the body was of a man or woman.

He said anyone with information may contact the Kameeldrift police station or the Boschkop police on 012-819-8200 or police crime stop on 08600-10111.

Sergeant Abri Roets of Kameeldrift police station pointing at crime scene.