

Police station up for auction

THE building housing the Goodwood police station for the past 60 years is up for auction, but the police union is not aware of it.

According to the Rawson auctions, the property in Wiener street, Vasco Estate, has been rented by the Goodwood police since 1956.

Police spokesperson Novela Potelwa said all they knew was that the lease agreement ends in December.

Public Works and Infrastructure Minister Patricia de Lille's spokesperson, Leigh-Anne Jansen, said the client department was aware of the impending sale of the building.

"The agreement is as per the terms of the existing lease agreement which expires on December 31." Jansen said the lease was extended for a further 12 months with effect from January 1 next year to December 31.

The SA Police Union together with Police and Prisons Civil Rights Union were not aware of the auctioning of the building.
