Health department offices broken into

The offices of the Eastern Cape department of health in Bhisho were broken into on Sunday evening.

Department spokesperson Yonela Dekeda said a case has been opened with the police.

"The security company contracted by the department of public works has also been instructed to submit a preliminary report on the incident," Dekeda said.

"At this point there is no indication of any goods stolen during the breakin."

Police had not responded to Dispatch Inquiries at the time of writing. -
