

KZN Public Works shows that good governance is possible

KWAZULU-NATAL'S (KZN) Department of Public Works and Infrastructure (DPWI), under the stewardship of Democratic Alliance MEC Martin Meyer, has once again proved that excellence in government is achievable after being named the Best Innovative Department in the Province at the recent Premiers Excellence Awards. At the start of the seventh administration, the DPWI embarked on a physical verification of all department-owned assets - from buildings, to houses as well as unused land. This was then taken a step further

Publication: Mercury - Main

Title: KZN Public Works shows that good governance is possible

Publish date: 28 Jul 2026

Page: 2

Reach: 7593

AVE: R 2475.29

Author: Staff Reporter

KZN Public Works shows that good governance is possible

KWAZULU-Natal's (KZN) Department of Public Works and Infrastructure (DPWI), under the stewardship of Democratic Alliance MEC Martin Meyer, has once again proved that excellence in government is achievable after being named the Best Innovative Department in the Province at the recent Premiers Excellence Awards.

At the start of the seventh administration, the DPWI embarked on a physical verification of all department-owned assets - from buildings, to houses as well as unused land.

This was then taken a step further with the development of a digital system to manage public assets in real time.

Understanding what actually belongs to the department is allowing the DPWI to determine whether these assets are adding value to communities or whether they would be better utilised in a different way.
Acknowledging excellence within government motivates our public servants to continually strive to find solutions aimed at delivering services to communities in the most efficient way possible.
As a partner within KZN's Government of Provincial Unity, the DA congratulates MEC Meyer and his team on their achievement and encourages them to continue to set a high standard of commitment on behalf of our prov-

Publication: Mercury - Main

Title: KZN Public Works shows that good governance is possible

Publish date: 28 Jul 2026

Page: 2

Reach: 7593

AVE: R 2517.24

Author: Staff Reporter

with the development of a digital system to manage public assets in real time.

Understanding what actually belongs to the department is allowing the DPWI to determine whether these assets are adding value to communities or whether they would be better utilised in a different way.

Acknowledging excellence within government motivates our public servants to continually strive to find solutions aimed at delivering services to communities in the most efficient way possible.

As a partner within KZN's Government of Provincial Unity, the DA congratulates MEC Meyer and his team on their achievement and encourages them to continue to set a high standard of commitment on behalf of our prov-

Publication: Mercury - Main

Title: KZN Public Works shows that good governance is possible

Publish date: 28 Jul 2026

Page: 2

Reach: 7593

AVE: R 335.63

Author: Staff Reporter

DA KZN Spokesperson
Public Works and Infrastructure

ince's people.
TAMMY COLLEY | DA KZN Spokesperson
Public Works and Infrastructure