ANNOUNCEMENT: NEW 6TH TERM SACQSP PRESIDENT

The South African Council of Quantity Surveying Profession (SACQSP) is pleased to announce the election of Ms Nosiyabonga Mongane as the new President with effect 09 March 2023. She is the first black female President in the history of SACQSP, a milestone worth celebrating.

Nosiyabonga Mongane is a registered Professional Quantity Surveyor and holds MSc in Property Studies (UCT), MSc in Facilities Management

(NMU), Hons in Development Studies (UNISA) and Btech QS (NMU). Nosiyabonga has served as a Council member since February 2018. She has also served on the South African Advisory Panel (SA MAP) of the RICS.

Nosiyabonga has over 16 years of experience in both the private and public sector. Nosiyabonga is very passionate about mentorship and has mentored a number of candidates for professional registration. She also believes that transformation can be achieved through intentional skills transfer, diversity and inclusion which inspire equity in the Quantity Surveying Profession.

Her previous roles with the Council include serving in the Fifth Term Council as a member of Identification of Work, Fees, Promotions and ESR committees. We are grateful for the commitment and passion she displayed whilst serving in the Fifth Term Council (2018-2022).

We look forward to many years of her ethical leadership as she steers the profession to greater heights.

We wish Nosiyabonga all the best in her new role.

Yours Faithfully
