1. PURPOSE

- 1.1. The National Department of Public Works and Infrastructure (hereinafter referred to as "the Department") is committed to upholding the highest standards of ethics, integrity, and good governance in its operations. Recognising the critical role of ethical conduct in public service, the Department seeks to strengthen its existing ethics framework and foster a culture of integrity amongst its employees and leadership. To achieve this, the Department requires the expertise of a qualified service provider to develop a comprehensive Ethics and Integrity Management Strategy and associated policies, an Ethics awareness programme, and to conduct an ethics leadership survey.

2. CONTEXTUAL BACKGROUND

- 2.1. The Constitution of the Republic of South Africa requires public administration to promote high standards of ethical conduct among employees. Furthermore, employees are required to serve the public in an unbiased and impartial manner in order to create confidence in the public service.
- 2.2. This requirement has been translated into a Code of Conduct for the public service. Reducing the risk of conflict-of-interest situations is an important issue in enhancing a culture of ethics and integrity within the department. If not appropriately managed, conflict of interest situations can undermine the integrity of officials, decisions, and stakeholders involved. It can also lead to the misuse of public resources and abuse of positions as officials serve their interests.
- 2.3. The department is responsible among other things to establish and mainstream organisational ethical culture in line with the Public Service Regulations, Code of conduct and other relevant prescripts. The department requires an ethics awareness programme to:
 - a. Maintain and promote high standard of professional ethics in the workplace; and
 - b. Strive to build an organisation that is free of unethical practices and corruption.
- 2.4. The department has a responsibility to improve integrity among employees, promote professional ethics and help to deter unethical conduct. It is based on above-mentioned prescripts that department is expected to develop the Ethics Strategy and implement a comprehensive ethics awareness programme in order to foster a culture of integrity, build trust and a resilient professional department. This will also enhance the reputation of the department.

3. SCOPE OF THE ASSIGNMENT

3.1. The work entails four critical areas (specific deliverables) –

- Development of an Ethics Management Strategy that correspond to the department/government ethical vision with an implementation plan.
- Develop the following ethics policies:
 1. Code of Conduct and Ethics.
 2. Conflict of Interest (Declaration and Management).
 3. Gifts, Hospitality, and Benefits.
 4. Other Remunerative Work outside DPWI and Outside Activities.
 5. Conducting business with organs of the state.
 6. Consequence Management for Ethics Breaches.
 7. Ethics Risk Management.
- Development of an ethics awareness and educational programme for the department.
- Analysing the department ethics risks and develop a departmental Ethics Risk register.
- Undertake an ethics leadership survey. (develop an ethics leadership survey, analyse survey data, develop a comprehensive report on the findings of the ethics leadership survey, and present the assessment report to the Department's senior management)

4. CONTACT UNITS

4.1. The Service Provider will be required to work closely with the following units:
